MAD DOG RUNS AMUCK.

Made a Terrible Record Last Night and This Morning.

ATTACKS A NUMBER OF PEOPLE

Bit The Same Man Twice in One Night--Dr. Kept Busy Cauterizing the Wounds.

The people on the streets last night about eight o'clock were thrown into a fever of excitement by a dog that seemed to be mad and for a time shot guns were plentiful in all parts of town. The news spread rapidly that several people had been bitten and there was much running to and fro by those who were armed and very little by those who were not.

The dog began operations on North Greene street about half past seven by biting a colored man Tom Wharton on the thumb. The wound was a bad one, the teeth of the animal going to the bone. He came up town and Dr. Turner cauterized and dressed the wound.

Before he had left the doctor's office two more victims of the dog, Sam Moore and Will Johnston came into to have their wounds attended to.

Sam Moore was attacked by the animal most viciously. He seized him by the left leg throwing him down and burying his fangs in the flesh. After throwing him he bit him again in the arm inflicting a painful wound.

Will Johnston was not seriously bitten receiving only slight scratches on the hand. Dr. Turner attended to him and he is suffering no serious inconvenience.

After biting Wharton the dog ran up Green street attacking every passer by. He attacked a little colored girl but did no more damage than to tear her clothing. He met John Thomas next and jumped at his breast seizing his coat and overcoat and tearing them both in his attempt to reach the flesh. He met Frank Thomas who was on the same street and served him in like manner.

Both of these gentlemen were glad to get off so lightly.

He met Town Clerk Michaux and bit him in the hand. Dr. Michaux dressed the wound.

The hunters did not succeed in finding the dog, which ran down West Market street.

The most peculiar incident was the fact that Tom Wharton was bitten twice. After having his hand dressed he started home and near the water works came upon the dog again, lying down beside the path, he says, and he was seized by the leg and bitten painfully. It is, perhaps, the first time in the history of mad dogs that a man was bitten twice in one day by the same dog. He suffered much last night and is greatly excited.

This morning the dog began his day's work by biting Mr. Bozler, on Walker avenue. He was suffering considerably from pain from it about 9 o'clock this morning.

Continuing his career, the dog ran across Mr. Newell, near Pomona, and attacked him. Mr. Newell made serious objection and a terrible struggle followed, he knocking the dog down several times, but was finally bitten in the leg. He came into town for treatment.

Bob Melvin was attracted by the struggle and arming himself with a gun, made short work of the dog. The dog killed was a black cur, with a white throat. The dog last night was reported to be a black one, with a white ring around its neck. Some think the dog killed at Pomona was not the same dog which did the damage here. There is little doubt of it, however.

There may have been more victims than those here mentioned, but they have not been heard from. It is not known how many dogs have been bitten and people who have pets would do well to keep them off the streets.

It would be well for the board of aldermen to pass an ordinance at once requiring all dogs to be kept up until the danger is past, and all dogs found on the streets should be promptly disposed of.

It is a matter of common safety, and no man should object to keeping his dog tied for a couple of weeks.

Tie up your dogs if you wish to keep them.

AUTOPSY ON THE DOG.

A Telegram reporter suggested that an autopsy be made on the dog and drove out at noon with Dr. W. H. Brooks to make it. The carcass was found about two hundred yards beyond Pomona and Dr. Brooks assisted by Dr. Turner, made an examination. The head was severed just in front of the shoulders and some of the spinal cord extracted from the cervical vertebrae. The spinal cord was healthy in appearance and showed none of the signs of deterioration always so marked in advance stages of the disease. The animal was evidently in the first stages. The spinal cord was carefully preserved and will be infused in glycerine and used to make further tests.

After securing the spinal cord, Dr. Brooks opened the body and found the stomach full of straw, sticks and hair. This is one of the strongest evidences of rabies. The stomach was almost wholly empty save for this, showing that the animal had taken no food for some time and had, in the paroxysms characteristic of the disease, swallowed the straw. This is not an absolute proof of rabies but a very strong one.

WILL INOCULATE RABBITS.

The spinal cord as mentioned above will be infused in glycerine and this infusion will be injected in a live rabbit, or several of them if they can be secured, and if the dog was suffering with hydrophobia the rabbits will die in twenty-four hours or a little longer. The experiments will be conducted at Astly-Cooper Hospital. Dr. Brooks wishes to secure several live rabbits and will pay for any delivered at the Hospital.

Mr. Van Lindley had the carcass of the dog buried after the autopsy.

As a matter of precaution it would be wise for those bitten by the animal to go where the Pasteur treatment can be taken. While it is true that only fifteen per cent of those bitten by rabid dogs ever develop the disease, it is always a possibility. Only two per cent of those who take the Pasteur treatment develop the disease.

It would be a humane step to send these victims of the animal who are not able to take the treatment to the Pasteur institute, at Baltimore, by subscription.

The markings of the dog correspond with the one seen hear last night.

AT THE BAZAAR.

The Ladies Have a Splendid Opening Day.

Although yesterday was the opening day of the bazaar the ladies were kept busy, especially in the evening, waiting on the eager buyers who thronged around the booths.

Everything from taffy and dolls to cook books and fortunes seemed to be in demand. There was also some interest manifested in the attendants of the booths, but that was not sufficiently remarkable to be remarked upon. The refreshments were all sold out by half past ten o'clock and that department was restocked this morning. The collection of curios had a rush from the start and the attendants were kept busy taking in the cash and explaining the wonders of the exhibit to the delighted crowd that thronged the tent.

Not the least of the attractions was the Greensboro orchestra which obligingly kept everything in tune, filled in gaps in the conversation and put everybody in a good humor. There is no longer any doubt that the bazaar is a social as well as a financial success. Even a larger crowd is expected tonight and those who desire some of the pretty things offered for sale should call early.

More Improvement.

Probably the worst place on any road near Greensboro is that portion of the road between the two bridges on North Buffalo near the water works. We are glad to say that the city is having rock hauled to this place with a view to making a 16 foot roadway and bridges the same width. We hope that the road will be changed to go straight instead of having to pull a heavy hill and cross the railroad twice as the road is now. This is a much traveled road and a popular drive leading to the Battle Ground. We heartily commend the city in this improvement. We also see new houses going up in this neighborhood.

Christmas Holiday Excursion Rates.

The Southern Railway has authorized a rate of 4 cents per mile one way for round trip tickets during the holidays.

MR. GAGE'S CURRENCY BILL

Exposition of it Before Committee Resumed This Morning

IS NOT PREJUDICIAL TO SILVER

The Secretary Says it Will Not Restrict the Use of Silver to Subsidiary Coin.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 17.—Secretary of the Treasury Gage resumed the exposition of his currency bill before the house committee on banking and currency this morning.

Chairman Walker had left the city and Congressman Brookes, of Pennsylvania, presided in his stead. Some semi-political questions were asked. Hill, of Connecticut, asked if it was the purpose of the bill to commit the country to the gold standard.

The secretary replied that he did not think it would more firmly fix the gold standard on the country. It did not, he said, conflict with the St. Louis platform, and that it in no way conflicted with any steps that might be taken to raise silver a higher standard of value.

It was designed to give such confidence in financial ability of the government that discrimination against it would largely decrease. Cox, democrat of Tennessee, asked whether the result of the Gage bill would not eventually lead to one kind of paper money, bank notes and no silver, except as subsidiary coin.

Secretary Gage replied that there was nothing in the plan to operate to that extent now. It is in that direction, however, and with further legislation might ultimately lead to such a result. The secretary could not say that silver would be restricted to subsidiary coin.

SHOT AT THE TRAIN.

Such Work is Becoming too Frequent an Occurrence.

Last night as passenger train Number 12 was about two miles out from Thomasville, some villain fired two pistol shots at it, one of which struck between the windows of the Express car, the other one crashing through a window in a passenger coach in which a number of men were riding.

One man sitting near the window was covered with broken fragments of glass, but fortunately no one was hit by the ball. A Greensboro citizen, who was on the train, had only a few minutes before the shooting, pulled down the blind and it is possible that this act saved some man's life. There is no clue as to the fiend who did the shooting.

Such work is becoming entirely too frequent to be comfortable for traveling people. Almost every week or two there comes a report of this kind. The Winston train has been rocked several times in the last few months. The railroad detective might, possibly, well employ some of his time in ferreting out the scoundrels who are thus becoming a constant menace to human life.

DEMOCRATS AND CUBA.

They Will Rest Upon the Action of the Caucus.

Leading democratic members of the House of Representatives say no aggressive action is anticipated to carry out the declarations of the recent democratic caucus on Cuba, finance and bankruptcy. It is said, however, that it would be useless to force the Cuban question before the House, as the rules would not permit the minority to bring the question to a vote. The Senate Cuban resolution, which was indorsed by the caucus, reposes in the committee on foreign affairs, and there is no power under the rules to get it from that committee.—Washington Star.

Snow White and The Dwarfs.

Miss Laura Doub's music class will give the operetta, "Snow White and The Dwarfs," Wednesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, in Bogart's Hall, on December 22nd.

Snow White and The Dwarfs ask all, who are interested in music, to come to hear them. The plot, personae, dramatis and price will appear later.

Holiday Rates.

Agents of the C. F. and Y. V. are authorized to sell round trip holiday tickets at the rate of 4 cents a mile one way. This is a rate of 2 cents a mile. Tickets to be sold December 22 to 25; also December 30, 31 and January 1, with extreme limit to January 4, 1898, good for continuous passage in each direction.

Facts Worth Studying.

If the Southern Stock-Mutual pays no larger dividends than the 20 per cent. now paid, and the business increases during the next seven years in the same ratio it has increased during the last three years, the actual saving for the ten years to policy-holders in North and South Carolina will be $194,822.00, and to the policy-holders in Greensboro alone, $26,237.00. Besides this the Company's assets (reinsurance reserve and surplus) represented by still larger figures will be kept at home and invested in the state. What better investment can the public make than by upholding an institution like this?

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

Congress will soon take a rest and give one to the rest of the country.

The only signs of political life David B. Hill has manifested for some time have been the interviews of Richard Croker.

And so ex-Congressman Billy Byrum is to practice law in New York. Queer how the ghosts of defunct politicians haunt the law courts of the metropolis.

Governor Russell says no brains are required to run the agricultural department, which probably accounts for the brilliant success with which the present regime has run it.

The New York Sun's well known motto, "If you see it in the Sun it's so," received a solar plexus prod yesterday when that journal stated that a Broadway cable stretched forty feet. Really that was stretching it.

The introduction of a bill into the Kansas legislature to prohibit snoring on sleepers is perhaps only a delicate way of attracting attention to the fact that the Kansan has ceased to travel on a cattle car by preference.

Premier Wilfrid Laurier has arisen to remark that there is "bound to be a great rush to the Klondyke in the Spring." Sir Wilfrid is accredited with being of French stock but the celerity with which he reaches conclusions makes him quite "Henglish, you know."

Madame Sarah Bernhardt is very much worried, being under the impression that a woman is seeking an opportunity to throw vitriol in her face. Judging from the length of time Madame Sarah has been a footlight favorite it would seem such a disfigurement would be superfluous.

HAS POPULISM PRINCIPLE?

Of all men the populists talk most about principle. The word is never off his tongue. He says that he is the only man in the body politics who has any principle and he believes it. He is the only patriot—all men else are "tools" and "hirelings" and other nasty things that nobody should be.

Is the populist party based on principle? Can any man tell what principle it stands for? Has any man ever told for what populism stands? Does it stand for anything definite as all political parties that have ever amounted to ought in nation building have done? There is much prating of principle but where is the principle?

The democratic party has always been the champion of individual liberty. The republican party has been the champion of a strong central government. Individualism—collectivism: these are the coherent principles of democracy and of republicanism respectively. If any man doubts this let him run over in his mind the stand that the parties have taken upon every question of public policy since the inception of the government and he will find that always they have been true to these principles and have taken a stand consistent with their fundamental ideas.

Does any sane man believe that if there were not in each of the "old parties" some strong principle binding together the millions of units composing them and galvanizing the aggregation into life that either of them could have run the course it has run without going to pieces a dozen times?

Democracy is more than the declarations of a democratic platform, republicanism is more than the issues involved in one campaign. The Platforms and issues are made by democracy and republicanism instead of making democracy and republicanism.

What is the principle of populism? It has "principles" but no principle. It stands for nothing, it declares for everything. It is destructive not constructive. It can tear down, it cannot build up. It can theorize illimitably, it can not execute at all.

Give the populist party control of every branch of the national government on the first day of the year and in twelve months time there would be no such thing as a populist party. It would never carry into actual execution one single important measure that its platform contains. Why? Because it is held together by no fundamental principle and would therefore split on the details of each individual measure.

For the same reason the populist party has not now, has never had and never will have the slightest chance of becoming a great national party. A whirl pool of the elements of discontent and discord—that is all. It will drag out an existence of some years yet, bartering its "principles" with either of the old parties that will give a mess of pottage for its vote and then go to the silent limbo of all ephemeral things.

The history of the populist party where it has gained power has shown just these things: it is the least competent and with a lease of power would be most corrupt of political parties.

The populist party has no principle.

HOW HAYTI PAID THE GERMANS.

Her Minister of Finance Had to Lug Bags of Gold up a Ladder.

Capt. Nyboer of the Duth West India steamship Oranje Nassau, which arrived yesterday from Hayti, was in the harbor of Port au Prince when the German war vessels, Charlotte and Stein, compelled the Haytian authorities to pay an indemnity of $20,000 for their treatment of the German subject, Lueder. The Dutch skipper says he saw the German ships enter the harbor and that they did not salute the forts. Immediately after the Charlotte dropped anchor her commander sent a sealed note to President Sam of the Black Republic, demanding the payment of the indemnity within four hours; otherwise, the note said, the ships' guns would open fire on the town.

The officer who took the note ashore was instructed to get a receipt immediately and return to the Charlotte. He did so, and within an hour Hayti's Minister of Finance came out to the Charlotte with the money, $20,000 in gold, in bags. He was received in silence by the Germans, who lowered an ordinary sea ladder and invited him to bring the money aboard. He was forced to make several trips up and down, as the bags were so heavy, not to say precious, that he did not care to take more than one at a time up the perpendicular ladder. After he had handed over all the gold and it had been counted, he was dismissed without ceremony.

The Haytians were indignant over the treatment of their representative.—N. Y. Sun.

Those Highway Robbers.

Chicago, Dec. 14.—Chicago aldermen raised their salaries from $3 a week to $1,500 a year last night. The ordinance which accomplished it was passed under a suspension of the rules by a vote of 56 to 8.

Principal John E. Ray says there are now 292 pupils at the institutions for the white blind and the negro deaf-mutes and blind—or 100 more than last year at this time.

Quality First

Price Second

Quality should always be considered FIRST in purchasing food supplies. The few cents difference in the price of a first-class article and a poor article would hardly be noticed in the monthly account—So don't deceive yourself by trying to economize in purchasing Cheap Goods—they are dearer in the end.

For nearly twenty-seven years we have been supplying the people of this city and surrounding country with groceries, and our motto has always been:

"First-class Goods

at a Living Profit."

Come in and see what an attractive display of Christmas Goods we have.

SILVER DOLLAR OF 1804.

Say it is in Montana—If Genuine it is Worth a Fortune.

SILVER DOLLAR OF 1804.

Say it is in Montana—If Genuine it is Worth a Fortune.

Great Falls, Mont., Dec. 16—If it proves genuine the last missing coin of the United States dollar issue of 1804 has been discovered in northern Montana.

For thirty years coin gatherers and museums have had a standing offer of from $8,000 to $10,000 for the coin. There are but four pieces of this issue in the world. It was brought to light in Teton county a few days ago, when Billy Seymour, a bartender at Chateau, was counting his cash. His eye caught sight of an old looking dollar that had been taken in. Seymour took the coin, putting an ordinary dollar in the drawer.

The following day he was exhibiting it to some of his friends when it was recognized as the dollar of 1804.

In a short time every man who had passed a dollar over Seymour's bar that day called to claim the coin, having "passed it through mistake."

Seymour refused to give it up. Several suits are threatened to recover possession. There is little reason to doubt the genuineness of the coin.

Supreme Court Decision.

From a late Supreme Court decision we take the following case and the opinion rendered therein. The case was that of McDowell county vs. Forsyth county and was brought to determine which county should support a certain pauper.

"The legal settlement of a pauper determines the county upon which he is to become a charge; which settlement is acquired by one year's continuous residence.

"In this case the pauper had always lived in the defendant county, except for short periods, when he did temporary work elsewhere. He made a crop in the defendant county the summer before he was hurt and had never been a county charge. In the fall of the same year he worked awhile in Buncombe county and then went to the plaintiff county, where he was so badly injured that he could not be removed to the poor house. When sufficiently recovered he was carried to the defendant county.

"The ruling of the court below upon these facts that the plaintiff county is liable for the support of the pauper is adjudged erroneous. 101 N. C. 250."

Greensboro is now, or has recently been inflicted with the presence of a crippled negro, begging around the streets. He is a half-witted fellow, and ought to be a charge on the county where he belongs.

Misses Mary and Caddie Whittington, Mary Belle White, Allie M. Winningham, Bertha Jones and Nina Troy.

The replies to our ad being so numerous, and from so many nice and well qualified young ladies, that we could not make a choice, so we were forced to take the names on a slip of paper and draw them, the names appearing here being the result.

We give this explanation that no one will feel that they have been slighted. We are grateful for your numerous and prompt replies, and take occasion here to say that the composition of many of them was as good as it has been our pleasure to read in a long time.

FOUR GENERATIONS IN JAIL.

Youngest of Family a Week Old, the Oldest About 60 Years.

New Bedford, Mass., Dec. 16—The house of correction here furnishes a remarkable study in criminology. There are now in the place four generations in one family, the youngest a week old and the eldest, the infant's great grand mother, scarcely over threescore.

All but the infant were committed to the institution September 9th for shoplifting.

Alenus Gillis was arrested after the police discovered the hiding place of some of the plunder, and subsequently his wife, her

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Mr. John Donnell is building two new houses on McAdoo avenue.

Mr. Shelton Houston has returned from Davidson College to spend the holidays.

Hon. R. B. Glenn and wife, of Winston, arrived in the city on the 11:45 train today.

Connection is being made with the water main, on N. Elm street, for the new house of Hon. J. L. King, on E. Gaston street.

A party of local hunters, with guns and dogs, went out to Friendship this morning to renew hostilities against the rabbit tribe.

S. E. Hudson enlarges his space in The Telegram today to tell you of some of the things he can supply to make a nice Sunday dinner.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. is talking of putting flags on the public school buildings. They are awaiting the action of the school board.

Florida Oranges that were bought before the rise are offered by Andrews at lowest prices. He also quotes you a reduced price on oysters.

The latest addition to our office in the way of a beautiful calendar, is one presented by Mr. H. C. Elliot, who represents the Life Insurance Company of Virginia.

An excursion from Jonesboro and Jonsson will arrive tomorrow morning. A large crowd of Moore county people are coming up to spend the day and do some shopping.

The winter is not half gone yet, and there will be cool weather in abundance. Cunningham Bros. tell you in their ad in this paper where to get the coal—they have nothing to do with the weather.

We are informed that the washout in the sidewalk on Arlington street, beyond Centenary church, has not yet been repaired. It may, however, be cheaper to pay for a broken limb than to fill the holes.

"They are going," and if you want good seats at the Academy of Music Monday night you had better go and get them at once. More than fifty seats had been taken at noon today. The Clara Schumann Orchestra fills the theatres wherever they go.

We are pleased to know the business of the Southern Tobacco Company is increasing to such an extent that they are now working extra hours in order to fill their orders. Their Touchdown brand of smoking tobacco is becoming exceedingly popular and is rapidly covering new territory.

Little Percy Ray Holton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Holton, on Lee street, died yesterday of acute gastritis, aged one year, eight months and twelve days. The funeral was held from the residence at 10 o'clock this morning and the remains laid to rest in Green Hill cemetery. We extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

Superintendent Sam Browne, of the street force, is giving the sewer grating, in front of Houston Bros. and the Odell Hardware Co., his attention. This is an improvement in the right direction. We congratulate Alderman Pickard on the work that has been done in his department. Let the good work go on. Good streets is one of the best advertisements a town can have.

Read the notice elsewhere of the entertainment tonight at Lindsay street school. There will be an interesting program, a part of which will consist of a Christmas tree, conducted by Santa Claus. The children will appear in pretty costumes, and the evening will be highly enjoyable to all who will go. The exercises will be brief and the audience will be amply repaid for the time consumed. Let the auditorium be crowded.
